

ASKA Strategic Partnership Alliance - Queensland & BC

On April 30, 2010 the Province of British Columbia and LifeSciences BC welcomed to Vancouver a delegation of leaders in life sciences from Queensland that coincided with the Province signing a wide-ranging memorandum of co-operation (moc) that will further ties between the two jurisdictions. ASKA Research is privileged to have announced a Strategic Partnership Alliance with Clinical Network Services of Queensland a year ago – see our photos with Premiers Gordon Campbell and Anna Bligh of Queensland, Dr. Tony Webber, CEO of CNS and Val Willetts, CEO of ASKA Research. As well please see the photo below with Rick Hansen, President and CEO of the Rick Hansen Foundation and Man in Motion who was a guest of honour - the importance of spinal chord injury clinical research were key discussions with ASKA Research during and following the reception, with exciting new initiatives planned for the Rick Hansen Institute in the near future.

The memorandum of co-operation included two areas that ASKA Research finds are key ways to build synergy, not only between our geographical areas, but worldwide:

- Maximizing knowledge intensive sectors, including biotechnology, life sciences, health and medical research.
- Promoting bilateral education opportunities.
